

The Bondville Boys

Original, eclectic roots music.

“Some of us are from Bondville and some of us are boys”

Since 1990, the Bondville Boys have played bluegrass, folk and Americana throughout western New England, sharing the stage with Del McCoury, the Nashville Bluegrass Band, Buddy Cage, and the Gibson Brothers, among others. The group currently has two live records and a studio album, Rivergrass.

Jake Geppert, Tom Morris and Laura Molinelli have played together for over twenty years. Joined most recently by Ben Campbell and Christian Heins, they are known for their sweet harmonies, excellent musicianship, good energy and eclectic set lists. The Bondville Boys play a huge assortment of music, including lots of original tunes and everything from Flatt & Scruggs to Blondie. Come check us out!

“Insatiably curious and wildly multifaceted” - Dan Bolles, Seven Days

“You can’t go wrong with the Bondville Boys!” - Deerfield Valley News

“Southern Vermont’s most beloved Bluegrass band.” - Elwood Stiles
